Stop Data (RIPA) Collection Amendments for 2024

Purpose:

This bulletin was created to provide training to CCPD personnel regarding new and amended stop data (RIPA) data collection requirements that become effective on January 1, 2024.

Background:

California Assembly Bill 953 (Racial and Identity Profiling Act of 2015) was introduced by the California State Legislature to help develop and encourage a collaborative process between law enforcement agencies and the communities they serve, to end racial and identity profiling. The Department began collecting stop data (RIPA) in September 2020 pursuant to California Assembly Bill 953. As of July 2023, all mandated agencies in California are collecting stop data. A variety of stakeholders, including law enforcement agencies, community members, academics, advocacy groups and the Racial and Identity Profiling Advisory Board contributed to the newly amended regulations. The stop (RIPA) data fields listed below outline the additions and amendments to the current requirements that take effect on January 1, 2024.
